

FarmDrive, a vibrant ICT4Ag startup being incubated at C4DLab, has been featured on Business Daily of February 27, 2014:

Four fourth-year University of Nairobi students pursuing Computer Science have embarked on linking farmers with financiers. James Kimani, Caroline Muteti, Rita Kimani and Peris Nyaboe have created an online solution that not only profiles farmers and the type of farming they do but also allows them to connect with youths and group investors.
