CSC416 COMPUTER SYSTEMS PROJECT

Objectives

- To demonstrate the consolidation and integration of the understanding of computer systems analysis and design.
- To tackle and successfully complete a computing problem of some complexity, and to gain experience in self-organization, project planning and control.
- To implement a system prototype during the project period, after which the student shall submit a project report in line with SCI.s project requirements and guidelines.